Project Mission & Success

→ Project Mission

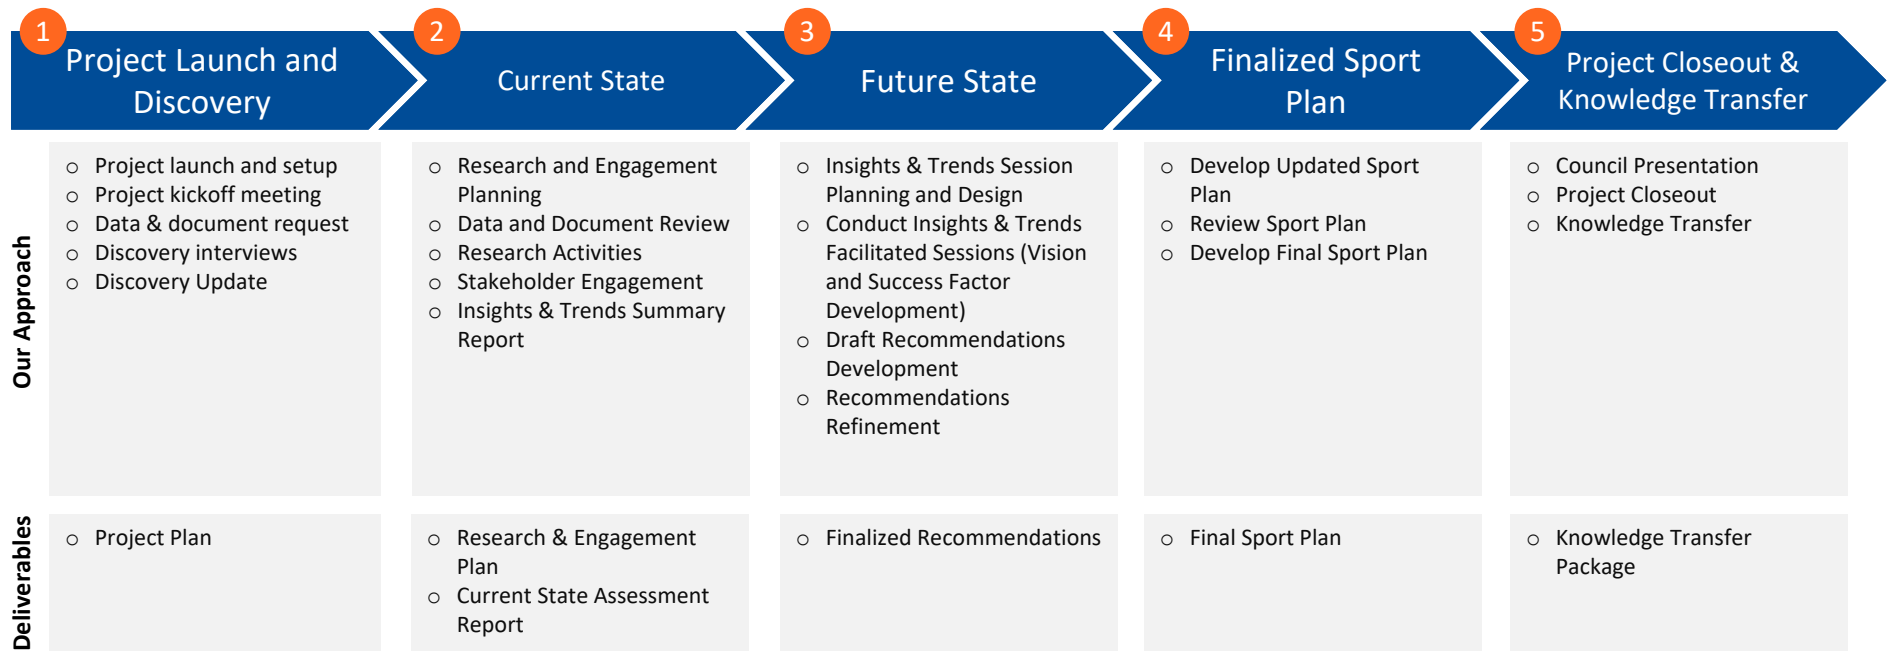

- To develop an updated Sport Plan for the Town of Aurora with a clearly defined vision and future direction guiding sport in the Town until 2029 while aligning with the updated Parks and Recreation Master Plan and Town operating realities.

→ Project Success

- Clear understanding of the Town's current state in developing sport across the municipality, identifying its strengths and challenges using a SWOT analysis.
- Incorporation of relevant research findings to help inform the Town's Sport Plan.
- The updated Sport Plan is aligned with the Parks and Recreation Master Plan and achieves the Town's strategic goals, supports continued investment in sport across the community, encourages greater collaboration with community partners and provides a framework to decrease overall liability for participants.
- Engagement and buy-in and confidence from the Town's Mayor, Council, Recreation leadership.

Our Approach

Optimus SBR combines deep industry expertise, evidence-based insights, and proven best practices to provide recommendations and solutions for Aurora's Sport Plan. Our high-level approach is outlined below:

Methodology

The following methodology informed the Strategy

Stakeholder Engagement – Interviews and focus group discussions with stakeholders using pre-established interview guides that are aligned to broader approved research questions. Additionally, a public survey was conducted of Town of Aurora residents.

Public Survey – An online survey was administered to gather insights on residents' experiences, preferences, and priorities regarding sports participation and recreation opportunities in Aurora

Data and Document Review – A detailed review of all data and documents provided by the Town of Aurora, including policies, planning documents, stakeholder feedback, and other relevant documentation regarding the non-infrastructure pillars of the Sport Plan.

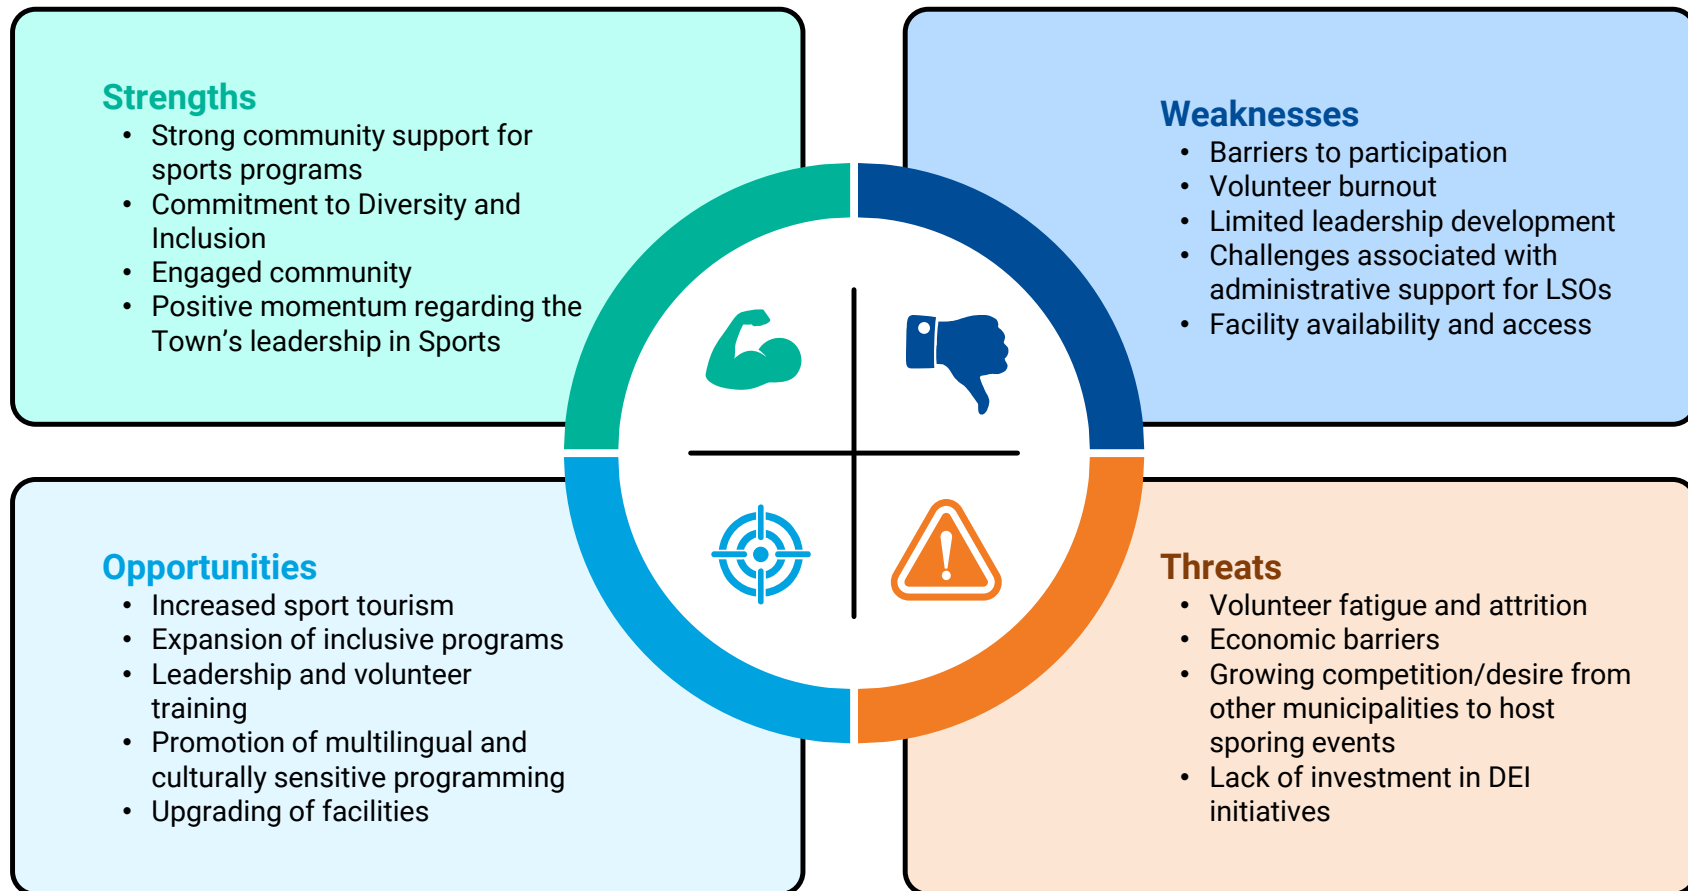

Comparator Review – Reviewed best practices from five municipalities (Markham, Brantford, Windsor, London, Mississauga) to gather information on their approaches to sport planning, funding strategies, and benchmarks for success.

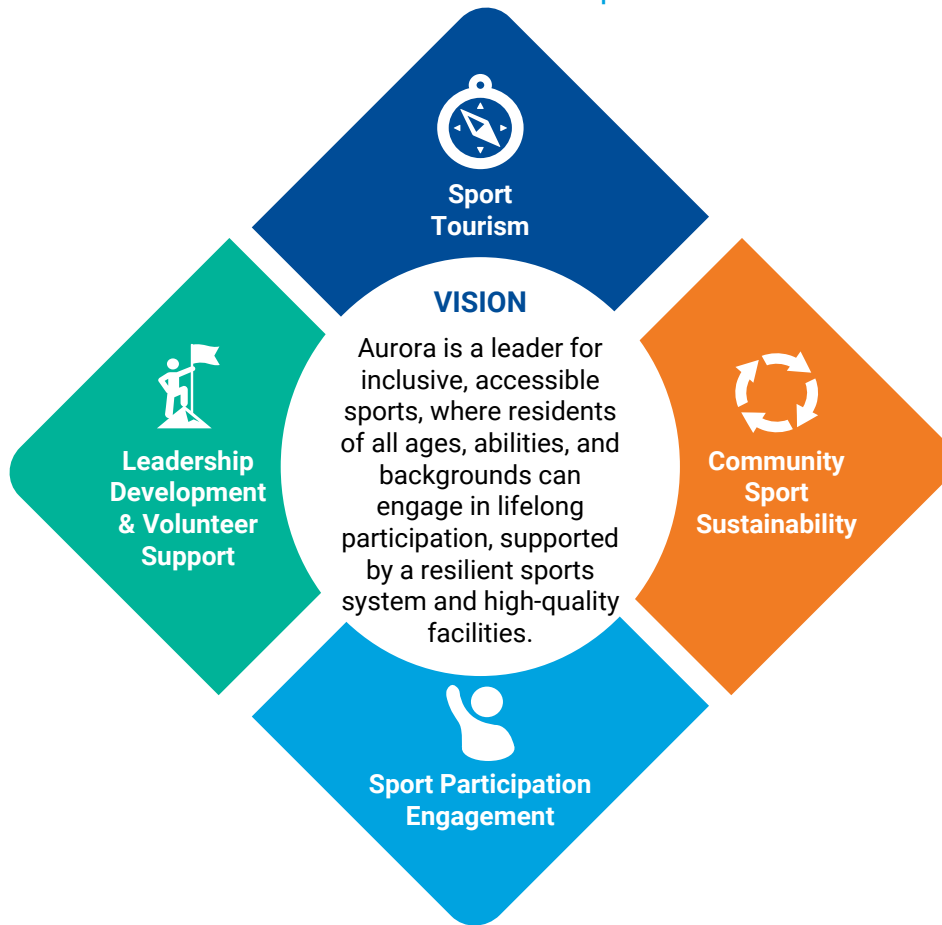

Summary of SWOT Analysis

The following strengths, weaknesses, opportunities, and threats were considered during the development of this Sport Plan. The following slides provide additional details on these considerations.
